Section I: Introductory Information

Missouri Housing
Development
Commission:

Missouri Housing Development Commission (MHDC or the commission) was established in 1969 in order to increase the availability of decent, safe and sanitary housing at prices within the means of low- and moderate-income persons. The commission is a governmental instrumentality of the state of Missouri and a body corporate and politic. The commission's authority is derived from Section 215.030, et seq., of the Revised Statutes of Missouri, as amended and supplemented.

The commission consists of the governor, the lieutenant governor, the state treasurer, the attorney general and six additional members selected by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. The act requires the members selected by the governor to be individuals knowledgeable in the areas of housing, finance or construction. As the state's housing finance agency, MHDC is responsible for establishing the state's housing policy and directing, coordinating and administering its housing programs. MHDC provides low-interest loans and down payment assistance to first-time homebuyers, provides money to repair homes or remove hazardous material such as lead paint and asbestos, and assists developers in building affordable apartments through a variety of financing programs.

The commission's purpose is summed up in its mission statement: "The commission is dedicated to strengthening communities and the lives of Missourians through the financing, development and preservation of affordable housing." Our mission encompasses more than just the development of the physical structure, but includes the establishment of a home, which includes the people within and the community surrounding them.
